000 minutes of airplay in three days, The Game made history by being the first Rap Artist to achieve Gold, Platinum and Diamond record status. The rapper is now ranked as the No.2 all-time bestselling rap artist. Leading Lady started to take off in 2001 with his third studio album. It was No.1 on the Billboard 200 and No.1 on the Rhythmic (Billboard) chart for 11 weeks. The album contained the platinum-selling single "Can't Stop the Reign," which catapulted the track to number one on the Billboard Hot 100, and the number one R&B single "Act a Fool." The final single, "Lollipop", was released the following year and featured an all-star guest list including rappers Big Pun, 50 Cent, Nas, Fat Joe and the-Dream.

Respect (1996) At the start of his career, The Game went by the stage name of "The R.E.S.", which stood for "Revolutionary". Respect went on to be nominated for the BET Hip Hop Awards (now known as the BET Awards) for Best New Artist. The album features "Daylight" and "The Way I Live", which he originally recorded with the first grade class from his high school, but were instrumental on his debut album.

Chasing the Devil (1999) The third album, released in 1999, showed the rapper's versatility and musical proficiency. It was praised for its combination of funky, r&b and club-oriented music styles, and featured Top-10 R&B hits "Don't Forget About Me," "Don't Know Why," and "I Don't Care." Y'all Know What It Is! (2000) The Game also worked on several features for other artists on his third album, including guest spots on "Amen" by 50 Cent and "U.O.E.N.O." by 50 Cent.

The Documentary (2005) His fourth album, The Documentary, was released in 2005 and featured the number one hits "I Can't Get With That" and "I'm a Hustla". The album debuted at number three on
